

NEWS RELEASE

October 22, 2010
Mariemont City Schools

Terrace Park PTO Scares Up Its Annual Pumpkin Festival

On October 15, ghouls and goblins came out to play at Terrace Park Elementary PTO's annual Pumpkin Festival. Throughout the school lurked spooky jack-o-lanterns, hair-raising hair painting, ghostly games, devilishly delicious dinners and more. Anchored by its trademark haunted house, Pumpkin Festival is always a popular fundraising event for kids of any age.

Photos:

TPPumpFace – Terrace Park kindergartener Blake Payne really got into the spirit with his pumpkin face paint.

TPBooCake – 5th graders Nate Moehring and Charlie Tripp are excited about their delicious Cake Walk prize at Terrace Park Elementary's Pumpkin Festival.

TPGirlsCafe – Terrace Park students Elizabeth Minifie, Elizabeth McCarthy, Courtney Robinson, Kyra George and Emily Bush enjoy a treat at the Pumpkin Patch Café.

TPGirlsFacepaint – Sadie Koehler and Avery Messner, 2nd graders, are transformed with the help of a little face paint at the Terrace Park Elementary Pumpkin Festival.

TPRingToss – Terrace Park third grader Evan Sizer tested his skill at the ever-popular Pop Ring Toss game.

Betsy Porst, Communications Coordinator
6743 Chestnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio 45227
bporst@mariemontschools.org